New Radio Show Highlights Hot Topics in Gun Rights

This week's show features internationally renowned defensive firearms instructor John Farnam

Drawing on 23 years as a leader in the gun rights movement, F. Paul Valone is hosting a new show entitled "Guns, Politics & Freedom" on Sundays at 5:00 PM Eastern as part of the "Sunday Night Political Power Block" on conservative talk station WFBT, 106.7 (Wilmington, NC), which streams live nationally at www.WilmingtonBigTalker.com

This Sunday (July 30), "Guns, Politics and Freedom" will feature John and Vicki Farnam of Defense Training International discussing how best to defend yourself and your family if faced with a deadly force encounter. Vicki will also discuss her specialty in teaching women – the fastest growing segment of concealed handgun permit-holders – to shoot.

Recent shows have included interviews with self-defense legal expert Andrew Branca ("The Law of Self-Defense") and constitutional law professor Greg Wallace ("The Second Amendment in the courts: What comes after Heller?"). Next week's show will feature widely published concealed handgun researcher Dr. John R. Lott of the Crime Prevention Research Center.
