New Radio Show Highlights Hot Topics in Gun Rights

This week's show examines...

Mass killer rampages: What can you do to protect your family?

Drawing on 23 years as a leader in the gun rights movement, F. Paul Valone is hosting a new show entitled “Guns, Politics & Freedom” on Sundays at 5:00 PM Eastern time as part of the “Sunday Night Political Power Block” on conservative talk station WFBT, 106.7 (Wilmington, NC), which streams live nationally at www.WilmingtonBigTalker.com

This Sunday (October 8), “Guns, Politics and Freedom” will examine what you may legally do to protect yourself, your family from mass killer events such as the recent Las Vegas killings. GPF’s featured guest will be Chris Bird, author of “Surviving a Mass Killer Rampage: When Seconds Count, Police are Still Minutes Away.”

Recent “Guns, Politics & Freedom” episodes have included interviews with Second Amendment Foundation Executive Director Alan Gottlieb, widely published concealed handgun gun researcher Dr. John R. Lott of the Crime Prevention Research Center, renowned defensive firearms instructors John and Vicki Farnam of Defense Training International, self-defense legal expert Andrew Branca (“The Law of Self-Defense”) and constitutional law professor Greg Wallace (“The Second Amendment in the courts: What comes after Heller?”).
